

The Circumcision
of our Lord God and Saviour Jesus Christ;
Our Father Among the Saints Basil the Great,
Archbishop of Caesarea in Cappadocia
January 1

GREAT VESPERS FOR ALL-NIGHT VIGIL

Beginning of Vespers with Litiya: Glory be to the holy, consubstantial, life-creating and undivided Trinity, now and ever and for ages of ages. Amen.

“Blessed is the man” is sung.

At Psalm 140

In Tone 8

8.

In his love for mankind,
the Saviour condescended and willed to be wrapped in swaddling clothes.
Eight days old according to his mother
and eternal according to his Father,
He did not look down upon the circumcision of the flesh.
Therefore, O believers, let us cry out to Him:
You are our God; have mercy on us!

7.

In his love for mankind,
the Saviour condescended and willed to be wrapped in swaddling clothes.
Eight days old according to his mother
and eternal according to his Father,
He did not look down upon the circumcision of the flesh.
Therefore, O believers, let us cry out to Him:
You are our God; have mercy on us!

6.

The all-good God was not ashamed to be circumcised in the flesh,
but He offered himself as a symbol
and an example of salvation to all.
For the Maker of the law submitted Himself to its commands
and to what the prophets beforehand told of Him.
O our God Who hold all things in Your hands,
and yet were wrapped in swaddling clothes,
O Lord, glory to You!

5.

The all-good God was not ashamed to be circumcised in the flesh,
but He offered himself as a symbol
and an example of salvation to all.

For the Maker of the law submitted Himself to its commands
and to what the prophets beforehand told of Him.

O our God Who hold all things in Your hands,
and yet were wrapped in swaddling clothes,
O Lord, glory to You!

In Tone 4

4.

You have been called by the name of Basil, after the kingdom.
In your kingly rank you led the people of Christ to wisdom and knowledge.
Then the Lord of all and King of Kings
adorned you with the crown of the kingdom, O Basil.
He is the everlasting and co-eternal Son
who was united to her that bore Him.
Therefore, intercede with Him
that He may enlighten and save our souls.

3.

You have been called by the name of Basil, after the kingdom.
In your kingly rank you led the people of Christ to wisdom and knowledge.
Then the Lord of all and King of Kings
adorned you with the crown of the kingdom, O Basil.
He is the everlasting and co-eternal Son
who was united to her that bore Him.
Therefore, intercede with Him
that He may enlighten and save our souls.

2.

Adorned with the vestments of a bishop, O Basil, you gladly proclaimed the Gospel of the kingdom and poured out the teachings of the true faith for the Church.
Now enlightened by them, we confess and glorify the one Godhead, indivisible in three Persons; namely the almighty Father, the only-begotten Word of God, and the Divine Spirit.
Intercede with Him that He may enlighten and save our souls.

1.

You are now living among the ranks of the heavenly powers, O Basil, for you imitated their life with the purity of your way of living.
When you were in the flesh,

you lived on earth as one without flesh.
There fore, intercede with Christ our God for us who delight in your God-inspired teachings, that He may protect us from dangers and the darkness of ignorance, and that He may enlighten our souls.

In Tone 8, Glory...

O venerable Father, you became a lover of wisdom, preferring life with God to all possessions of the world.
Your contemplation of death made you forsake the wealth of the earth, and by your perseverance in fasting,
you overcame the sting of passions.
By study of the divine law
you preserved the freedom within your soul.
By your generous practice of virtue you subjected the passions of the flesh to the spirit.
You renounced the flesh, the world, and the princes of the earth;
now you stand in the presence of Christ.
Intercede with Him for great mercy upon our souls.

Now...

In his love for mankind,
the Saviour condescended and willed to be wrapped in swaddling clothes.
Eight days old according to his mother
and eternal according to his Father,
He did not look down upon the circumcision of the flesh.
Therefore, O believers, let us cry out to Him:
You are our God; have mercy on us!

Readings

Genesis 17:1-14

Proverbs 8:22-30

Proverbs 10:31-11:12

Lytia

In Tone 3

With your life of purity, O holy Basil, you attracted Christ, the fountain of life, to dwell in your soul.
You channeled streams of inspired teachings to the world.
The faithful people of the Church drink from them and acknowledge the teachings of your lips and offer good works to Him who glorified your memory for all ages.

The holy chrism of grace was poured out upon you, O God-inspired Basil, and anointed you as minister of the Gospel of the kingdom of heaven.
You were the sweet fragrance of Christ;
you filled the earth with the fragrance of His knowledge.
Graciously hear the voices of your servants and ask abundant mercy for us who honour you.

Clothed in priestly vestments, holy Basil, O defender of the Trinity,
you stood before the tribunal, braving danger for the faith.
You resisted with the undaunted courage of a martyr.
You put to shame the anger of the bold emperor who was filled with the power of the ungodly.
You willingly decided beforehand to accept the sufferings that he threatened.
Having been ready of your own choice to be a martyr,
you received the crown of victory from Christ
Who has shown great mercy.

In Tone 6, Glory...

The grace flowed from your lips, O holy Father Basil.
You were the shepherd of the Church of Christ, teaching your spiritual sheep to believe in the holy Trinity, consubstantial on the one Godhead.

In Tone 8, Now...

In His love for mankind,
the Saviour condescended and willed to be wrapped in swaddling clothes.
Eight days old according to His mother
and eternal according to His Father,
He did not look down upon the circumcision of the flesh.
Therefore, O believers, let us cry out to Him:
You are our God, have mercy on us!

Aposticha

In Tone 1

You were like a divine and noble bee of the Church of Christ, all-blessed Basil.
When you armed yourself with the sting of divine love, you wounded the blasphemers of God-transgressing heresies, and you stored up the sweetness of true worship in the souls of believers.
Now that you have attained the delights of the divine presence, remember us before the consubstantial Trinity.

My lips will speak words of wisdom; my heart is full of insight.

You have acquired the virtues of all the saints, O Father Basil:
the meekness of Moses and the zeal of Elijah,
the confession of faith by Peter,
and the eloquence in theology of John.
Like Paul, you never cease to cry aloud:
Who is weak and I am not weak?
Who is offended and I burn not?
Therefore, because you dwell with them,
pray for the salvation of our souls.

In Tone 2

The mouth of the just utters wisdom, and his lips speak what is right.

O Basil, the revealer of holiness, having studied the nature of creatures and contemplated the instability of all things, you found the only One Who is unchangeable,
the transcendent Creator of all the world.
And having clung to Him, you cast off the desire of transient things.
Therefore, intercede for us that we may also obtain the divine love.

In Tone 6, Glory...

O all-blessed Basil, you received the grace of miracles from heaven and exposed the errors of the heathen by your doctrines.
You are the glory and support of bishops,
and an example of the teachings of all the Fathers.
Therefore, having received favour with Christ, intercede with Him for the salvation of our souls.

In Tone 8, Now...

The all-good God was not ashamed to be circumscribed in the flesh,
but He offered Himself as a symbol
and an example of salvation to all.
For the Maker of the Law submitted Himself to its commands
and to what the prophets beforehand told of Him.
O our God Who holds all things in Your hands
and yet were wrapped in swaddling clothes, glory to You!

Troparia

In Tone 1

Your message has spread through all the earth.* it accepted the word with which you taught in a manner befitting God.* You explained the nature of things and ordered human conduct.* O namesake of the royal priesthood, venerable Father Basil,* pray to Christ God that our souls may be saved. (2)

You are seated on high on a fiery throne,* with Your Father who is without beginning and Your divine Spirit.* Yet You willed, O Jesus, to be born of a virgin maiden, Your Mother,* as a man, You were circumcised on the eighth day.* Glory to Your all-gracious will,* glory to Your providence,* glory to Your condescension, O You who alone love mankind.

Note:

Texts of hymnography taken from a variety of sources.

Scripture used from the Revised Standard Version.

Troparia taken from The Divine Liturgy: An Anthology for Worship (Metropolitan Andrey Sheptytsky Institute of Eastern Christian Studies at Saint Paul University): Ottawa, 2004.